F. Rules for Categories

There is no limit on the amount of post-processing used in either category. The Realistic Appearance category is open to any image that gives the impression that it is a realistic photograph, even though the subject may be abstract. The Artistic Impression category is open to any image that has been modified by the maker, through post-processing or by in-camera or lens usage to reflect the maker's intent to create a non-realistic impression. Examples include zooming during exposure or use of a lens that distorts reality. However, use of a specialized lens to add bokeh, for example, does not mean that the resulting image does not have a realistic appearance.

An image need not reflect the scene as originally photographed to qualify as having a realistic appearance. The maker will be the ultimate decider as to which category is appropriate for the maker's entry.

G. JUDGING AND AWARDS

1. The Judges Chairperson will provide a panel of three judges. The score of the three judges will be used unless a judge has an entry in the competition. Such a judge will give a zero to his/her entries and the other two judges' scores will be used. The sum of their scores will be multiplied by 1.5. If the product is not a whole number, it will be rounded up to the next whole number. For example, if the other two judges gave an image scores of 7 and 9 respectively, the total of 16 would be multiplied by 1.5 and the image would receive a score of 24. If the other two judges gave an image scores of 7 and 8 respectively, the total of 15 would be multiplied by 1.5 and the image would receive a score of 22.5, rounded up to 23.

The sole exception to this rounding up rule is as follows: If there are no other entries at the rounded-up score and there are other entries at the score if the result were rounded down, then the score will be rounded down. For example, if one or more other entries received a 23, the judge's entry will be rounded up to 23. If there are no entries that received a 22, the judge's entry will also be rounded up to 23. If there are no entries that received a 23 and there is at least one other entry that received a 22, the judge's entry will be rounded down to 22. It is the intent of this exception to promote ties in scoring.

2. Guest judges are encouraged, but must be members of the photographic or art community and be familiar with judging.
3. Rules for each competition will be read or emailed to the judges before each competition by the Judges Chairperson. First and foremost in the judging is; does the image meet the criteria of the competition, and if the majority of the judges feel it does not, the image must be disqualified.
4. Judges will be expected to evaluate each photograph based on the following point system. 1 to 3 points = impact; 1 to 3 points = composition; 1 to 3 points = technique. A maximum score would be 27 points, 9 points per judge.
5. Each category will be judged as a separate group. Only the registered number of the entry will be read aloud during the judging. All category entries will be previewed for the judges by a brief (15 to 30 seconds) showing of each entry. Then the entries will be viewed in the same order as the preview for judging. Each judge records their score independently and the scores are recorded by the scorer.

6. The score Recorder will tabulate the scores for each entry of the category. In case of ties in scoring, all images with the highest score will receive a first place award. The same rule applies for the second and third place.
7. When tabulated, the score Recorder will announce the awarded position, title, maker and total points of each entry.
8. The entries will be critiqued at random by the guest judges as time permits.
9. Awards will be issued at the annual dinner.

H. Adjustment of Rules for particular competitions.

Some of the CVCC competitions, such as the Interclub Competition, the May Show, and People's Choice, will have changes to the above rules. These changes will be published prior to the competition.
