January 2011 Newsletter

Hi and Happy New Year!

On December 7, we had our People's Choice-President's Cup Competition "My Favorite 2010 Photo(s)" The winner was Morris Burke, for his beautiful photograph taken in the Beachwood Park, "And Summer Peaks" This proves that you can make beautiful images without traveling across the country or across the world (though that doesn't hurt, either). Morry's name will be added to the President's Cup, joining our 2009 winner, Mark Feingold, and our 2008 winner, Errol Bellon. Morry sent me a digital file of his winning image, which will be added to our website. Thanks to Audrey Halpern for refreshments.

Tuesday, January 11: Charles Mintz, "The Album Project" (Refreshments, Leonard Pomplas)

Tuesday, January 25: Competition "Night AND Motion" Couple nighttime photography with a sense of movement. Please send your projected entries to me at dlglaw@sbcglobal.net, by the Thursday before the competition. (Refreshments, Les Greenberg)

Tuesday, February 8: Daniel Levin, Associate Professor of Photography, Tri-C West "The Photograph: Fine Art and Commercial is Possible" (Refreshments, Ryn Clark)

Tuesday, February 22: Select Photographs for the Inter-Club Competition "S-Curves or Diagonals" Or both, if you can find them. Prints only (Refreshments, Jerry Kustin)

All evening meetings are at the Beachwood Library, 25501 Shaker Blvd. (NW corner of Richmond Rd. and Shaker Blvd.) at 7:00 p.m..

Exhibitions:

Canton Museum of Art, view Stephen McNulty: "Finding Home" Stephen captures the drama and majesty of Colorado, Wyoming and South Dakota, through March 6. Photos by the curator of Joseph Saxton Gallery in Canton.
